

Notice of Resumption of On-Site Monitoring of Community Rehabilitation Program Vendors (CRPs): May 13, 2021

This notice supersedes the “Notice of Temporary Suspension of On-Site Monitoring of Community Rehabilitation Program Vendors (CRPs): March 23, 2020” which expires effective immediately.

To reduce the potential for exposure, and to help protect our immunocompromised and vulnerable population, the Idaho Division of Vocational Rehabilitation had suspended on-site CRP Monitoring during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Idaho Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (IDVR) is resuming on-site monitoring in accordance with Governor Little’s decision to move Idaho to Reopening Stage 4.

What this means for Community Rehabilitation Programs:

If you had a CRP monitoring scheduled prior to May 13, 2021 the monitoring was postponed. Once cleared by IDVR administration to resume, your Regional Manager will reach out to schedule a review. If you are anticipating a review soon, as you are nearing three years since your last, the review will be delayed as the Division clears the monitoring schedule backlog.

The review schedule will resume in June of 2021, however, all scheduled monitoring in the three-year cycle will be delayed in order to stagger review times so regional staff are not overwhelmed with a backlog of monitoring activities. IDVR will be disseminating a tentative monitoring schedule to all CRPs, but IDVR Regional Management and CRPs will work together to find a time that best works for the actual review.
